

ANIMAL

Stylized Animals

GOAL

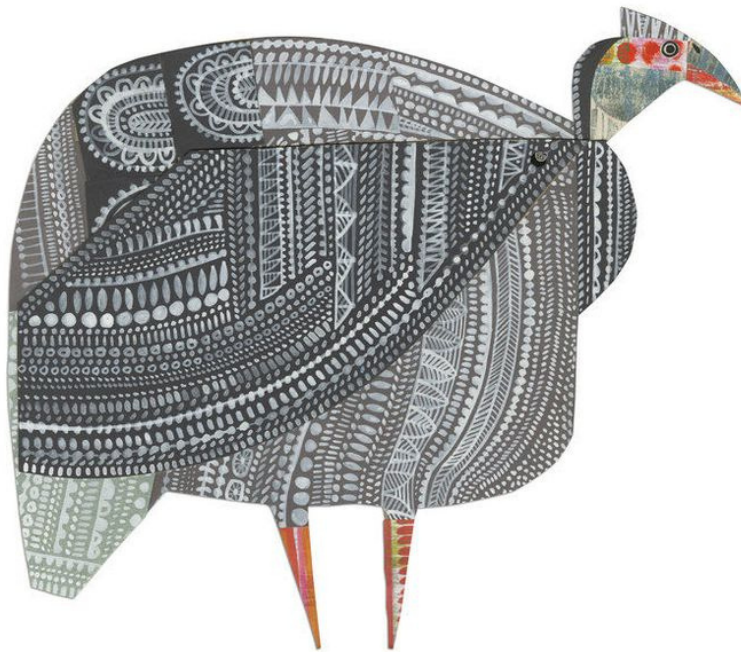

Practice drawing animals in a stylized way.

TECHNIQUE

Basic Shapes
Box-in Shapes

INSTRUCTION

Remember, basic and block-in shapes can be used to identify the proportions of an animal. These techniques can be taken a step further by applying a style to the animal to create a unique final piece.

Example of a bird drawn in a stylized form. This style utilizes geometric patterns within the basic shapes of the animal.

Examples of Different Styles That Can be Used

Pattern Style

The print of the animal's coat extends beyond the animal.

Ribbon Style

The animal takes on a graphic design/industrial look with linear elements and shapes.

Mixed-Media

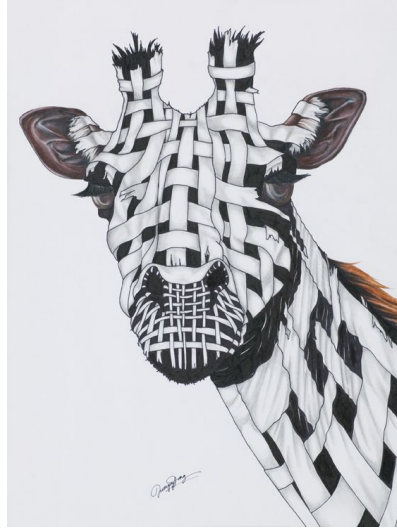

Variety of mediums (colored-pencil, pastel, acrylic paint) are used to create the animal on a non-traditional material (newspaper, cardboard, etc).

Watercolor

This method celebrates the features of watercolor and the effects of washes for form the animal.

EXAMPLES

Ribbon Style

Watercolor

PRACTICE

Find your own image of an animal and choose a style to draw the animal in.
Don't forget to start with the basic and block-in shapes before stylizing the animal.
